In view of applicants' response filed 9/27/07 the following still applies.

Claims 1, 8-9, 11 and 12 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement for reasons set forth in the previous action. Applicant' amendments do not overcome this rejection and applicants do not otherwise address the deficiencies in the Wands factors set forth in the previous action. While not every compound need be tested to comply with enablement requirements, note the following passage in MPEP 2164.03 : "The "predictability or lack thereof" in the art refers to the ability of one skilled in the art to extrapolate the disclosed or known results to the claimed invention. If one skilled in the art can readily anticipate the effect of a change within the subject matter to which the claimed invention pertains, then there is predictability in the art. On the other hand, if one skilled in the art cannot readily anticipate the effect of a change within the subject matter to which that claimed invention pertains, then there is lack of predictability in the art." Unpredictability entails structural sensitivity -a well known fact in drug design. Given the recognized factors that affect receptor binding , namely size (surface area), polarity and electronic effects, the skilled artisan would not have sufficient information to predict what type of heterocyclo/heteroaryl derivatives from among the many covered by the instant scope would be suitable replacements for the small number of compounds made and tested.

Claims 1,8,9,11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

1. The newly added range for aryl has a lower limit set to 5 carbons in the ring. As far as the examiner is aware, while there are 5-membered carbocyclic rings that are unsaturated there are no 5-membered aromatic rings resulting in neutral compounds.

Claims 2-5 remain objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicants' IDS filed 9/27/07 has been considered to the extent necessary to determine patentability over any art cited. The many citations of office actions in copending cases is not seen to be material to the present case. If applicants disagree, they should point to relevant sections.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
